ABSTRACT

A comprehensive listing of student enrollment characteristics is presented in a tabular form and uses a five-year time span to demonstrate trends and provide comparisons in regard to student enrollments, origins, majors, degrees conferred, etc. Percentage increases or decreases from year-to-year or over five-year periods are provided in most tables to illustrate the degree of change in the characteristics. INTRODUCTION

This project is designed to provide, under one cover, a comprehensive listing of student enrollment characteristics. Most of the information is presented in tabular form with comparable data for a five-year period shown whenever available. It was felt that the use of annual student data for 1971-72 through 1975-76 would make the 1975-76 data more meaningful and would also help to point out trends in student enrollments.

The Office of Institutional Research and Planning acknowledges the valuable assistance provided by staff members from Admissions and Records, Student Residential Programs, and Computer Services who assisted our Office by gathering and compiling base data used in this project.
